Fr. Paul's Message

Dear Holy Redeemer,

At this Midway point of Lent, I'd like to review our practice of fasting.

A boy once told his girlfriend that he would do anything for her. He said he would climb a mountain or swim across the ocean to prove his love. He would die for her, he says. The girl replied that these actions were not necessary. She just wanted him to walk her home after school. The boy replied that he would, but that he had already made plans with other friends.

Certainly, there is a lot about love that this boy has yet to learn. Love demands that the satisfaction of personal desires be sacrificed for the sake of the other. That is why we are impressed by mothers who stay awake all night to watch over their sick children. Particularly during Lent, we are called to show our love for God by sacrificing the fulfillment of our own cravings with fasting.

Officially, the Church mandates two forms of fasting: first, abstinence from all meat (beef, pork, and lamb), and all poultry, chicken and turkey, on Ash Wednesday and all seven Lenten Fridays; and second, the proper fast of not eating outside of a simple small meal on Ash Wednesday and Good Friday. However, it has been the practice of the saints through the centuries to deprive themselves of food more intensely at this sacred time. Sacrifice can be made in ten thousand ways. During the Middle Ages, Christians regularly stopped eating meat for the entire forty days. Fifty years ago all adults were required to fast between meals every day of Lent except, of course, on Sundays.

We make sacrifices to stand in solidarity with the suffering Jesus. Not only did He go forty days without food in the fight against the devil, but He gave Himself over to the trial of crucifixion to win us victory over sin. Take for example a man who shaves his head when his wife, who is sick with cancer, is receiving chemotherapy. His motive is to sacrifice at least a small part of himself to be in solidarity with the suffering his wife is enduring. Thus, we suffer a little from the hunger that Jesus endured for our salvation.

In the first Lenten preface (the hymn of praise to God beginning the Eucharistic prayer) the priest curiously says for the people: "By (Jesus) you grant your children to yearn, year after year, with the joy of having purified us, the solemnity of Easter." Our sacrifice, then, should not be the cause of sadness but of joy. With the grace of Christ, we are overcoming the impediments that separate us from God: the desire for material things, the estrangement from the poor, and the lack of direct communication with God. We are going to win heaven, the end of sin, the end of death, all through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Fr. Paul Ybarra, C.S.C.
